Directions (6-10): Rearrange the following sentences (A), (B), (C), (D), (E) and (F) in the proper sequence to form a meaningful paragraph; then answer the questions given below them.

A. Its prevalence reflects very badly on a society that is not above to stop this evil.

B. Though elimination of child labour is an impossible task considering the current socio-economic scenario of these poor families, the Indian government is committed to the task of ensuring that no child remains illiterate, hungry and without medical care.

C. Therefore, unless the socio-economic status of the poor families is improved, India has to live with child labour.

D. The members of these households have to send their children to work, even if the future of these innocent children is ruined, as that is the only choice open for them to survive in this world.

E. Child labour is, no doubt, an evil that should be done away with at the earliest.

F. But in a society where many households may have to suffer the pangs of hunger if the children are withdrawn from work, beggars can't be choosers.
